CABINET MINISTER RESIGNS.

UNEMPLOYMENT CAUSES A SPLIT.

SIR OSWALD MOSLEY CREATES A SENSATION.

OBJECTIONS TO POLICY.

Definite evidence of the split in the Labour Cabinet is forthcoming by the resignation of Sir Oswald Mosley, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, a position which gives him Cabinet rank. Sir Oswald has resigned following a division in the House of Commons on Monday night when the Government's majority was reduced to fifteen on an Opposition motion alleging that the Government had failed to deal adequately with the unemployment problem.

Sir Oswald regarded the Government's small majority as tantamount to a vote of no-confidence and accordingly resigned. The sensation follows the preparation of a memorandum by members of the Left Wing of the Labour Party, including Sir Oswald Mosley, regarding bolder methods to cope with unemployment. The Cabinet recently finally rejected the memorandum which advocates the lavish expenditure of borrowed money.

There is now considerable speculation whether the Premier will succeed in healing the breach and inducing Sir Oswald to withdraw his resignation. Sir Oswald, however, is assured of support from the Left Wing which, as a whole, views with disapproval the more sober measures for dealing with unemployment which Mr. J. H. Thomas advocates.

GOVERNMENT'S NARROW ESCAPE.

London, May 20. The Government's majority in the House of Commons was reduced to 15 last night in consequence of the abstention of the Labourite Left Wingers and several of the Liberals on a division which ended the debate on the Opposition motion alleging that the Government had failed to deal adequately with the unemployment problem.

A sensational result of this was the announcement to-day that Sir Oswald Mosley had resigned the Chancellorship of the Duchy of Lancaster, a position which gives him Cabinet rank.

Long ago, Sir Oswald Mosley, with his colleague, Mr. George Lansbury and Mr. Tom Johnston, prepared a memorandum outlining much more progressive remedies to deal with unemployment than those which Mr. J. H. Thomas proposed.

The details of the memorandum have never been disclosed but Sir Oswald Mosley's differences with Mr. Thomas have been notorious. It was stated early in March that only the entreaties of Mr. George Lansbury prevented Sir Oswald Mosley then resigning from the Cabinet. The latter recently finally rejected the memorandum.

Premier as Peacemaker. Sir Oswald, who is one of the most able debaters in the House of Commons, did not take part in the crucial debate last night.

It is rumoured that Mr. Thomas refused to agree to Sir Oswald winding up the debate and also that Sir Oswald regarded the Government's small majority as tantamount to a vote of no-confidence on unemployment.

Ministers and politicians are now speculating whether the Premier, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, will induce Sir Oswald to withdraw his resignation. In any event, the Minister is assured of support from a strong section of the left wingers.—Reuter.

Official Caution.

London, May 20. Reports are current that Sir Oswald Mosley, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, and a member of the Government who has been associated with the Lord Privy Seal in devising measures for dealing with the unemployment problem, has tendered his resignation. The newspapers state that Sir Oswald favours bold measures on the unemployment problem.—British Wireless.

The Cabinet Split.

Sir Oswald Mosley's resignation is the first outward sign of the split in the Cabinet which has long been suggested but never displayed.

GLOUCESTER PUT UP RECORD.

BIGGEST SCORE FOR TWO WICKETS.

HAMMOND AND MOORE MAKE DOUBLE CENTURIES.

OXFORD TROUNCED.

London, May 20. Gloucestershire, in their match with Oxford University, scored 627 runs for the loss of only two wickets. This is the largest score ever made for two wickets. Hammond made 211, Moore, a young Cambridge Freshman 206, and Dacre 100. The county defeated Oxford by an innings and ten runs. During the matches which finished to-day there were three double centuries, one batsman missed the honour by a single run, and eight others made a hundred or more.

The Honours List.

The principal batting and bowling feats during the County cricket matches which ended to-day are given below:

Batting.

Berry (Leicester)	232
Hammond (Gloucester)	211
Moore (Gloucester)	206
Bates (Warwick)	195
Kilner (Warwick)	159
Oldroyd (Yorkshire)	145
Robins (Middlesex)	140
Hopwood (Lancashire)	109
Sutcliffe (Yorkshire)	108
Gibbons (Worcester)	104
Nawab Pataudi (Oxford)	102
Dacre (Gloucester)	100

*Not out.

Bowling.

Macaulay (Yorkshire)	4 for 18

and	5 for 70

M.C.C. v. Australians.

The Australians failed to impress in their match with the M.C.C. which ended to-day in a draw. In the first innings the Australians had made 285 and the M.C.C. 258. Going in again this morning the Australian total stood at 23 for the loss of two wickets. The entire team was soon dismissed for 213, Jackson being the only batsman to make a good score. He had made 64 when his wicket was taken. Allen, the M.C.C. bowler, took four of the Australians' wickets in the second innings for only 28 runs.

Gloucester v. Oxford.

In a very high scoring match at Oxford, Gloucestershire beat Oxford University by an innings and ten runs.

Oxford batted well and made 374 when they first went to the wicket. Nawab Pataudi made a faultless century, being 102 when his wicket was taken. Gloucester replied with the terrific score of 627 runs for two wickets when they declared. Of this total Moore made 206, Hammond 211 and Dacre 100. The two latter carried their bats.

When Oxford went in again they made 243 runs. Naturally with such high scoring there was no especially good bowling average.

Yorkshire beat Essex.

Yorkshire beat Essex by 132 runs at Leyton. Yorkshire's first innings was characterised by a splendid batting display by Oldroyd who defied all the Essex bowlers and contributed nearly half the team's total. Yorkshire were all out for 290, of which Oldroyd made 143. When the last wicket fell, Oldroyd was still at the wicket having played a faultless innings.

Essex made 231 in the first innings, there being no especially notable individual scoring performance. They fared badly against the Yorkshire bowling in the second innings when they were dismissed for the poor total of 130.

Yorkshire's second innings resulted in another century, this being scored by Herbert Sutcliffe, one of the County's opening batsmen. He was 103 not out when the match ended.

ILL-LUCK ATTENDS "MASKEE."

ONE OF THE CREW SICK:
WATER TANK LEAK.

COMING BACK HERE.

Bad fortune has attended the initial stages of the round-the-world voyage by the junk "Maskee," which left Hongkong on Saturday morning on the first leg of the trip. Aboard the junk, in addition to Mr. L. J. Stevenson, the leader of the expedition, were Messrs. Banks, Grenham and Mitton, and the intention was to make for a Philippines port south of Manila.

Since the little craft left, there has been considerable speculation as to its fate, principally due to the fact that incoming steamers during the past three or four days have reported extremely bad weather. It was therefore thought to be more than likely that the "Maskee" would, not long after having left port, run into heavy seas, and possibly be forced to take shelter.

That the fears were not altogether groundless appears to

INTERPORT CRICKET INTERRUPTED.

SERVICES MATCH OFF.

Shanghai, May 21. It is raining incessantly, and, as a consequence there will be no play in the Interport cricket match to-day, and probably not to-morrow.

The Hongkong match against the Services, which was to have been played on Thursday and Friday, has been cancelled.—Reuter.

A telegram received by Mr. L. S. Greenhill at 1.15 p.m. stated that it was still raining and that weather permitting the match will be continued on Thursday and Friday.

be borne out by the fact that at 2.30 this morning a message was received at Waglan stating that the "Maskee" was putting back into port and making for Junk Bay.

It is also rumoured that Messrs. Banks and Grenham were sick, but not sufficiently ill to need medical attention.

According to the message received by Waglan, it was expected that the "Maskee" would reach Junk Bay not later than 6 a.m., but although the Harbour Office sent out a launch to trace her, she had not been located up to 11.15 a.m.

Up to the time of writing, the "Maskee" has not been traced, although there seems little doubt that her navigators intended bringing her back to Hongkong.

Later. The s.s. Hangsang, which arrived in port just after 1 p.m. from Swatow, reports that she passed the "Maskee" off the Nine Pins at 10.15 this morning.

As the steamer passed, a message was shouted from the "Maskee" by megaphone to the effect that one of the men aboard was sick and that the water tank was leaking. The junk was therefore returning to Hongkong.

It is expected that the "Maskee" will come into port some time this afternoon.

NO IMPORT DUTY ON WHEAT.

PREFERENCE OF CANADA
NOT INVOLVED.

London, May 20. The President of the Board of Trade, Mr. William Graham, questioned regarding the Government's policy on Imperial Preference, said it had been already clearly stated.

He added that it was not proposed to impose an import duty on foreign wheat, so that the question of according preference to Canadian wheat, as suggested in the question, had not arisen.—British Wireless.

CANTON FORCES FOR NORTH.

BIG ARMY ORDERED TO THE FRONT.

TO REINFORCE NATIONALISTS
IN THE WAR.

COMING BATTLES.

Nanking, May 20. The decision of the National Government to withdraw 10,000 Cantonese troops in Kwangtung and Kwangsi, under the 6th and 8th Nationalist Route Commands, to reinforce the Nationalist troops fighting along the Lung-Hai Railway, some time this week, has been announced. It is understood that the National Government has chartered several steamers for the conveyance of the army to Nanking en route to the war fronts.

Nanking Success.

Confirmation of the fall of Kweichow, reported yesterday, comes from a reliable foreign source, pointing to the fact that the Kuomintang armies have not been successful in their encounters with the picked troops under the 2nd and 3rd Nanking Divisions on the Lung-Hai Line.

In an official communique to the Central Government, Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, who has returned to Hsuehchow from Kweichow, announces the probability of his army capturing Kaifeng, the capital of Honan, some time next week. Marshal Chiang says that he is confident of taking Chengchow within three weeks.

The Nationalist invaders under the 3rd Nanking Division have passed Ninglinghsien, heading rapidly for Lanfeng, which is near Kaifeng. The Nationalist vanguards will attack Lanfeng from three directions and hostilities are expected to commence at any moment.

The Kuomintang Army are not expected to hold Lanfeng, but it seems certain that a big battle between the Nationalist and Kuomintang defenders will take place at Kaifeng.

Peace Overtures.

Following the announcement by General Chang Hsueh-liang of a declaration which is in the course of preparation, urging peace in the North, and a circular telegram by Mr. Chang Ching-kiang, a member of the Nationalist Government, requesting the Northern militarists to put down their arms and settle their disputes by amicable methods, rumours are once again in the air that some of the Commanders in the opposing armies are getting tired of war which aims at eventual peace.

So far, Nanking has not shown the slightest inclination to stop the war, while Honan messages state that Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang and Marshal Yen Hsi-shan have arranged a military conference at Sinsiang to-day to discuss coming attacks on the Nationalist Army.

It seems likely that Marshal Feng will make a dramatic appeal to Marshal Yen asking him to mobilise his picked Shansi forces to join in the war in view of the critical situation at Chengchow and Lanfeng, where the Nationalist troops are converging to attack the two Kuomintang strongholds.

It is hard to predict the outcome of the present war at this preliminary stage, as the best of the Shansi troops are stationed in Western Shantung which have not suffered the least in the war so far, while, on the other hand, many Nanking Divisions under General Ho Yink-ching are remaining at Hankow and on the Hupeh-Honan fronts, and these big contingents of Nationalist troops have so far not been utilised.

Nationalist Claims.

Shanghai, May 20. An official communique from Hsuehchow states that among the rebels captured by the Government troops in the battle at Kweichow, was a Divisional Commander named Sun Tien-chun, who is believed to be a brother of Sun Tien-ying.

The prisoners, numbering about 6,000, will be entrained to Pengpu shortly.—Reuter.

COMMONS DEBATE ON BUDGET.

CONSERVATIVE M.P. MOVES
ITS REJECTION.

LIBERAL APPROVAL.

London, May 20. In the House of Commons to-night, Sir Robert Horne (Conservative) moved the rejection of the motion for the second reading of the Finance Bill.

He said owing to the Budget's heavy additional taxation, industry was faced with increased difficulties in competing successfully in the world's markets. In social services this country had gone twice as far as any other, and, by increasing that expenditure, for which the revenue could only come from already overburdened industry, the existence of the social services themselves was threatened.

Sir Herbert Samuel (Liberal) supporting the Bill, recalled that the burden of rate relief left by the late Government's De-rating Bill was very heavy and had been estimated at £24,000,000 by Mr. Neville Chamberlain. The present Chancellor was determined to pay his way and meet his obligations.

RAID ON INDIAN CONGRESS HEADQUARTERS.

Over Three Hundred Police
Take Part.

STILL CONTINUING.

Bombay, May 21. Three hundred unarmed and 50 armed police, under high officers, surrounded the Indian National Congress Headquarters at seven o'clock this morning.

The raid is still going on at the time of cabling.—Reuter.

Perhaps he was doing more. If there was the smallest improvement in trade, the Budget was likely to yield a surplus next year, and perhaps a considerable surplus the year after that.

It was said Sir Herbert Samuel, a tribute to British democracy that the Labour Government, had not yielded to the temptation to put aside the obligations regarding debts. It was a grim Budget, but he thought it not unjust.

Mr. Petrick Lawrence, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, said the large size of the Budget was only due to the aftermath of the war.—British Wireless.

London, May 20. The House of Commons agreed to the second reading of the Finance Bill, relating to the Budget, after a motion for its rejection, moved by Sir Robert Horne, a former Chancellor of the Exchequer, had been defeated by 282 votes to 206.

The Liberals supported the Government.—Reuter.

INDIA GOVERNMENT LOAN.

£7,000,000 ISSUE FLOATED
IN LONDON.

London, May 20.

The Government of India Loan, which was underwritten yesterday, was offered for subscription to-day and the lists were closed early this afternoon.

The issue consists of £7,000,000 of six per cent. bonds 1933-35, and the price was 99 per cent.

The proceeds of the issue will be used mainly to provide funds for capital expenditure on railways, and the balance will be employed for general purposes.—British Wireless.

THREE RAILWAY SUMMONSES.

CHARGES AGAINST
MR. BRAYFIELD.

REQUEST FOR AN INDEFINITE
ADJOURNMENT REFUSED.

MR. JENKIN WANTED.

An allegation that Kowloon-Canton Railway authorities took out summonses periodically which were rather fictitious was made by Mr. J. T. Prior, before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, when three summonses taken out by officials of the Railway against Mr. T. G. Brayfield, of Messrs. Carmichael and Clark, were mentioned.

Mr. Brayfield was alleged to have wilfully obstructed or impeded Mr. F. Winyard, a railway servant, in the discharge of his duty, in that he did refuse to show his ticket for the purpose of examination, or, at least, that he showed it in such a way that it was impossible for the complainant to examine it, on May 8.

Other Charges.

A second summons was in the name of Li Yau-lung, who accused Mr. Brayfield of wilfully obstructing or impeding him in the discharge of his duty in that he did refuse to show his ticket for the purpose of examining or punching it, or, at least, that he showed it in such a way that it was impossible for the complainant to examine it, on May 8.

There was a third summons against the defendant, who was accused by Mr. Robert Baker, Manager of the Railway, that he unlawfully did without permission of the Administrator of the Railway, leave or cause to be left motor-car No. 324 on the railway premises or approach thereto which is under the control of the Administrator on May 14, 15 and 16.

None of the parties was present in Court when the summonses were called, but Mr. L. R. Andrews, Assistant Crown Solicitor, appeared on behalf of the railway officials, while Mr. T. J. Prior represented Mr. Brayfield.

Adjournment Wanted.

His Worship intimated that he had already reserved a date for the hearing of the summonses.

Mr. Prior mentioned that the case was being taken to Counsel and it was intended that Mr. F. C. Jenkin be retained, but Mr. Jenkin would be engaged in a hotel case which would last for about a month. He did not know if his Worship thought it would be unreasonable, but what he wanted was that the hearing should be put off indefinitely until Mr. Jenkin was able to appear. He admitted that it was a lot to ask for, but it was very unfortunate.

In reply to his Worship, Mr. Andrews said it was a rather long time to let the case stand over.

Prevention of Nuisance.

His Worship agreed and remarked to Mr. Prior that the complainants were objecting to some obstruction by a motor car, which, in their opinion, seemed to be a nuisance. He supposed that they wanted to prevent the continuance of the offence.

Mr. Prior replied that the offence did not now exist and intimated that "these summonses are taken out periodically by the railway and are rather fictitious."

His Worship remarked that Mr. Prior was rather prejudging the case.

Mr. Prior agreed, but said he thought his Worship would be of the same view after he had heard the evidence.

His Worship said that all the summonses seemed to him to be hardly of sufficient gravity to justify an indefinite adjournment for the sake of getting some particular Counsel.

Let Behind Summonses.

Mr. Prior intimated that "there is a lot behind these summonses." He remarked that there was a possibility of cross proceedings being taken out against officials of the railway.

His Worship remarked that if Mr. Jenkin were engaged for the

NAMHOI VILLAGE
TERRORISED.BEARER OF MAGISTRATE'S
EDICT KILLED.

A countryside over-ridden by bandits and its inhabitants reduced to a helpless state of terror, was the picture presented by the Crown, when, before Mr. Lindsell at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, extradition proceedings were commenced on a requisition by the Canton authorities for the surrender of three men belonging to the clan of the Tams in Namhoi district, on a charge of murder.

Mr. Hin-shing Lo, instructed by Mr. Horace Lo, of Messrs. Lo and Lo, appeared for the fugitives.

The Public Prosecutor (Mr. Somerset Fitzroy) said that Tam Sit, Tam Hung and Tam Yuen, the three men in the dock, were concerned in a murder which occurred at Tai-Foo parish, in the Namhoi district of Kwangtung, on May 3rd, of last year.

The countryside appeared to have been then in a state of terror owing to the activities of a band of robbers, to the extent that the Magistrate of the district had to send down a letter from his seat, requiring the offer of rewards, at $300 a head, and amounting to $3,600, for the arrest of the ring-leaders, of whom three were alleged to be the fugitives.

An Official Letter.

Then followed a meeting of the villagers at which Tam Yeung, a leading clansman, who was the bearer of the official letter, was present. Discussion took place as to the advisability of carrying out the Magisterial order, and a decision appeared to have been arrived at before the meeting broke up.

Some days after the meeting, on May 3rd, Tam Yeung was attacked and shot down, it is alleged by the three fugitives in the market place. Although other villagers saw the murder, no report was made concerning it to the Magistrate for a long time afterwards.

It was not until February of this year that soldiers were sent to the village and cleaned up the place.

The first witness called, Tam Thai, said he was a younger brother of the murdered man. It was outside a pork-shop, in the market place, that he saw his brother being killed by four men amongst whom he recognized the three now charged before the Court. They used short fire-arms. Frightened lest he should share the same fate, witness ran to a neighbouring village and took refuge in a relative's house.

A fortnight previously, the villagers had received a dispatch from the Magistrate of Namhoi, warning them to take repressive measures against those of the law-breakers who dwell amongst them, lest other villagers, who might be innocent, be themselves arrested.

Shot in Market Place.

It so happened that the law-breakers had gained an ascendancy over the elders of the village, and the report that Tam Heung was compelled to take back to the Namhoi Magistrate, was to the effect that bandits did not exist in the village.

A fortnight later, he was shot in the market-place.

The fugitives were amongst the list of six or seven names definitely mentioned in the Magisterial edict as being those whose arrest should be effected.

No report was made of the murder, either by witness or by any other villager to the Namhoi Magistrate, until six or seven months afterwards. This was because the villagers feared the gang, and what they might be able to do out of vindictiveness. It was not until witness had safely removed himself and his family to Fatshan, Sulky Husbands.

"What would you do for a sulky husband?" asked a woman recently, writing to a London newspaper. Says the newspaper in reply, "The man who sulks habitually is a pathological specimen and needs a doctor."

But before worrying the medical fraternity about your husband, why not get him to look to the state of his liver? Most often it is in just this sensitive organ that the morbid state which demonstrates itself in gloom and grievances takes rise, and as a corrective of disordered liver there is nothing better than Pinkettes.

As gently as nature Pinkettes cleanse the system of its gloom-producing poisons, stimulate the digestive tract, dispel biliousness and sick-headache, aid the appetite, restore cheerfulness and smiles.

Of Chemists everywhere, Pinkettes, the dainty little liver laxatives, 60 cents per vial.

did he venture to forward to the proper authority the first formal statement of the murder. Some hundred villagers had by then followed his example in leaving the bandit-infested village and trekking to Fatshan.

A Long Feud.

In cross-examination by Mr. Hin-shing Lo, witness denied that he was employed in any police capacity in connexion with the Namhoi Magistracy. He came into the picture only once, that was to say on February 23rd last, when he was required to conduct a party of soldiers in the clean-up they effected of the village.

He admitted that in the parish of Tai-Foo there was another village, occupied by the clan of the Fungs, and that it was with these same Fungs, that the Tams had sustained a long feud, which culminated in a big fight two years ago. Since then, peace and friendliness had been restored between the two clans.

Pressed, witness admitted that his father and an uncle were arrested by the authorities, together with 40 other village elders, for the share they had in the disorders. Of these 40, some 20 were still being detained.

Again, the Tam clan was divided into three branches, but he denied that all the three fugitives were thus diametrically opposed to him, since the third man, Tam Yuen, belonged to the same branch as he did.

Temple Funds.

A question which Mr. Lo suggested was of paramount importance in the case from the native point of view, was one concerning ancestral temple funds, which were commonly held in trust for the three branches. These monies, which, according to witness, amounted to between $2,000 and $3,000, were derived from the proceeds of rice-fields, mulberry plantations and fish-ponds, and were held annually, in rotation, by each of the three branches to administer for the common benefit of all three.

Witness said that at the time of his death, the murdered man was in charge of these funds. Witness denied that his brother had at any time been accused of misappropriation of any part of the monies, either by the fugitives or by any other villagers.

Another Tam, with the familiar name of Sui, was also mentioned by Counsel as being one who all along had been accused of the murder in Chinese territory. This was denied by witness, who said that although Ah Sui was one of the bandits, he was not with the gang who carried out the actual crime. Moreover, Ah Sui was dead—he was shot during the subsequent military raid.

The case was adjourned for a week.

WALTER J. HAWKER, A.C.I.S.
HONGKONG.

Below are some opinions by professional men who have been favoured with advance copies.
"I have tested it in several instances, and found that in each of those instances, the work fully meets the test."
"For years I have complained bitterly of the lack of an Index to the Companies' Ordinances of Hongkong. The volume will be of great service."
"The work is excellently conceived and very well worked out."
"Every solicitor, barrister and auditor and company secretary will find the work indispensable."
"I heartily congratulate Mr.
Hawker on his work."

CINEMA NOTES.

NOVEL WALL-PAPER IN FILM.

A new and economical wall covering—with a surprisingly artistic texture—was discovered at the United Artists Studio in filming "The Locked Door," the George Fitzmaurice all-dialogue production at the Queen's Theatre with Rod La Rocque, Barbara Stanwyck, William Boyd and Betty
Bronson co-starred.
Ordinary strip burlap that can be bought for a few cents a yard joined by sewing and glued and tacked to the walls of a lavish living room set, then covered with a coating of dull-finished paint applied by means of a spray gun.
Rich flower designs in pastel shades were superimposed on the first coating when dry and the whole thing was finally antiqued.
The result gave an astonishingly mellow texture that approximated very old tapestry work.
Studio decorators predict that the new burlap "wallpaper" will establish a new vogue where rich wall surfaces are appreciated.
"West of Broadway"

Cowboys that chose golf balls instead of cattle portray a new type of Western picture in Priscilla Dean's new Metropolis feature
"West of Broadway" which had its first local showing at the Majestic Theatre, Kowloon last night.

DIED AT GOOD NEWS.

MAN'S COLLAPSE WHEN TOLD
FREE FROM CANCER.

A man's death when told he was not suffering from cancer, as he had thought, was described at a Holborn inquest on Percy Volain
Pluck, 66, of St. Helier, Jersey.
He had been led to believe that he had cancer, and on the advice of his doctor, in Jersey, went to St. Paul's Hospital.
"The final examination had been completed," said the resident medical officer at the hospital, "and a doctor was telling the patient he would be able to return home
the next day, as he was not suffering from cancer, when he gasped and lost colour."
Further medical evidence attributed death to failure of the heart, and a verdict of death from natural causes was recorded.

Miss Dean, as Freddie Haydon, a woman golf instructor in masculine clothing, invades a golf club, newly-created by the wild riders of the range. She receives a cold reception, is thrown out, comes back again and finally wins her way to the heart of a one-time womanhater. Arnold Gray plays the male lead opposite Miss Dean with Walter Long, Majel Coleman and William Austin in supporting cast.
The direction by Robert Thornby is excellent, and in every respect
"West of Broadway" is worth going to see.

A NAVAL TREATY TRAGEDY.

JAPANESE OFFICER
A SUICIDE.

Tokyo, May 20.
Tension over the London Naval Treaty has been heightened by the suicide of Lieutenant Commander Kusakari, a member of the naval General Staff, who died to-day in hospital at Numazu, after having slashed his abdomen with a sword on a train between Kobe and Tokyo.

Lieutenant Commander Kusakari, did not explain his harakiri, but his naval comrades declare that recently he had been bitter and despondent over the future of the navy as a result of the London Pact.

Admiral Takarabe continues to be closely guarded, and policemen mounted on motor cycles accompany his motor car every where.—Reuter.

American Views.

Washington, May 20.
Sharp cross-questioning of naval experts was a feature of the Foreign Relations Committee's hearing of opinions of the Naval Treaty.

Admiral Hilary Jones opposed the provisions regarding both eight-inch gun and six-inch gun cruisers.

Senator Reed contended that Admiral Jones expressed contrary views in a letter last year, and Admiral Jones replied: "That letter was written to find a yardstick."

Examining Rear-Admiral Bristol, Mr. Reed cited the Anglo-Japanese cruiser strength before the conference and asked: "Do you suppose they would have ceased building to allow us to catch up with them without this treaty?"

Admiral Bristol was of opinion that in view of their financial condition they could not continue.

Both the Foreign Relations Committee and the Naval Committee are confident of having a sufficient majority to ratify the Treaty. They passed a resolution in favour of an early conclusion of the public hearings of the enquiry.—Reuter's American Service.

WOMAN'S WORLD

FOR OUR LADY READERS.

Secretaries Will Get Married!

[By a Business Man.]

During the last five years I have engaged six secretaries. Really good private secretaries are hard to find. In those five years I wasted many futile hours in interviewing unsuitable applicants. And having engaged a secretary I waited patiently for two or three months until she acquired a knowledge of the routine of the office and the general principles of my business.

Her Victorian Husband.

My first secretary lasted exactly six months. She was not beautiful, nor even pretty, but she had the clear skin that denotes perfect health, and serene, candid eyes. One day she told me that she was leaving to get married. I pointed out that there was no marriage bar in my office, but it appeared that her husband-to-be objected to office work for his wife.

I asked his name, and was staggered to learn that my head clerk was the Victorian fance. To him, privately, I spoke. I accused him of robbery, but he merely smiled sheepishly. I pleaded with him—he smiled still more sheepishly. The rogue thought he had a perfect right to take away from me a valuable private secretary.

After my second secretary had been taken from me by a member of my staff I began to believe, with some justification, that my employees were great admirers of my judgment. I called in my two remaining bachelor clerks, explained my fears, and offered to select suitable wives for them. To my surprise they demurred. Neither, it seemed, had any present intention of getting married.

For dinner-time wear the Parisienne likes a simple gown in printed chiffon or mousseline. This model, cut on Princess lines, features an attractive cape-like collar which reaches to the waist at the back, and the new bow trimming on the skirt.

Yet within three years I had lost two admirable secretaries.

With every male employee married, I engaged my fifth secretary with a light heart, and in view of the prospect of permanence I was particularly careful in my choice of a candidate. I shall always remember 1929 as a vintage year for secretaries; for my fifth was the queen of them all.

Enter the Serpent.

For a long time I was content, as one in Paradise, and then, one day, the serpent entered. It assumed the shape of a client who asked her to luncheon with him.

At once I became aware of a new and very wide field of danger. Bad enough to have my secretaries stolen by my staff; intolerable to have them stolen by outsiders. I would not, could not, lose this secretary. And yet in the end I did lose her. I was forced to lose her in order to keep her. I married her.

Your Children.

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

We talk so much of fear in connexion with this matter of child training that there is sure to be danger of overlooking the fact that certain fears are right and necessary. Constructive fears, we might call them, or positive fears rather than negative ones—the kind that builds up character instead of tearing it down, that builds a defence rather than a menace.

For instance, who can dispute the value of fear when it comes to self analysis?

One day a boy I knew went to his mother and said, "Mother, I'm afraid of something. I can't tell what it is, but there is something I'm afraid of, I know."

His mother laughed. "Well, well," she replied beamingly. "A guilty conscience needs no accuser. What have you been doing?"

"Not a thing, Mother. That's just it. I can't think of anything."

"Sins of omission bother us sometimes as much as those of commission," she insisted. "Perhaps it's something you haven't done."

"I'll think," he replied. "It must be something."

Finds Source of Worry.

That night he came into her room when she was in bed. He sat down on the edge of the bed and said, "Mother, I believe I'm worrying because Grandfather wants me to help Father in the shoe business when I'm out of school, and I want to be an aeronautical engineer. He's going to pay for part of my education, and I want to please him. If I go on with school, I'm afraid I'd be taking money under false pretences. What do you think?"

"I think it would be a good idea for you to talk it over with Grandfather himself, dear. I'm sure he will realize that you have a right to a majority vote as to what shall be done with your own life. If he is willing to help you out with that understanding, then it's all right for you to take his money. But if he wants to withdraw his offer under the circumstances, I think you'll have to work it out yourself with what little help we can give you."

Fear Put to Rout.

"Gee, Mother, I feel about a ton lighter. I know that's why I've been so uneasy. I don't seem to be afraid of anything now."

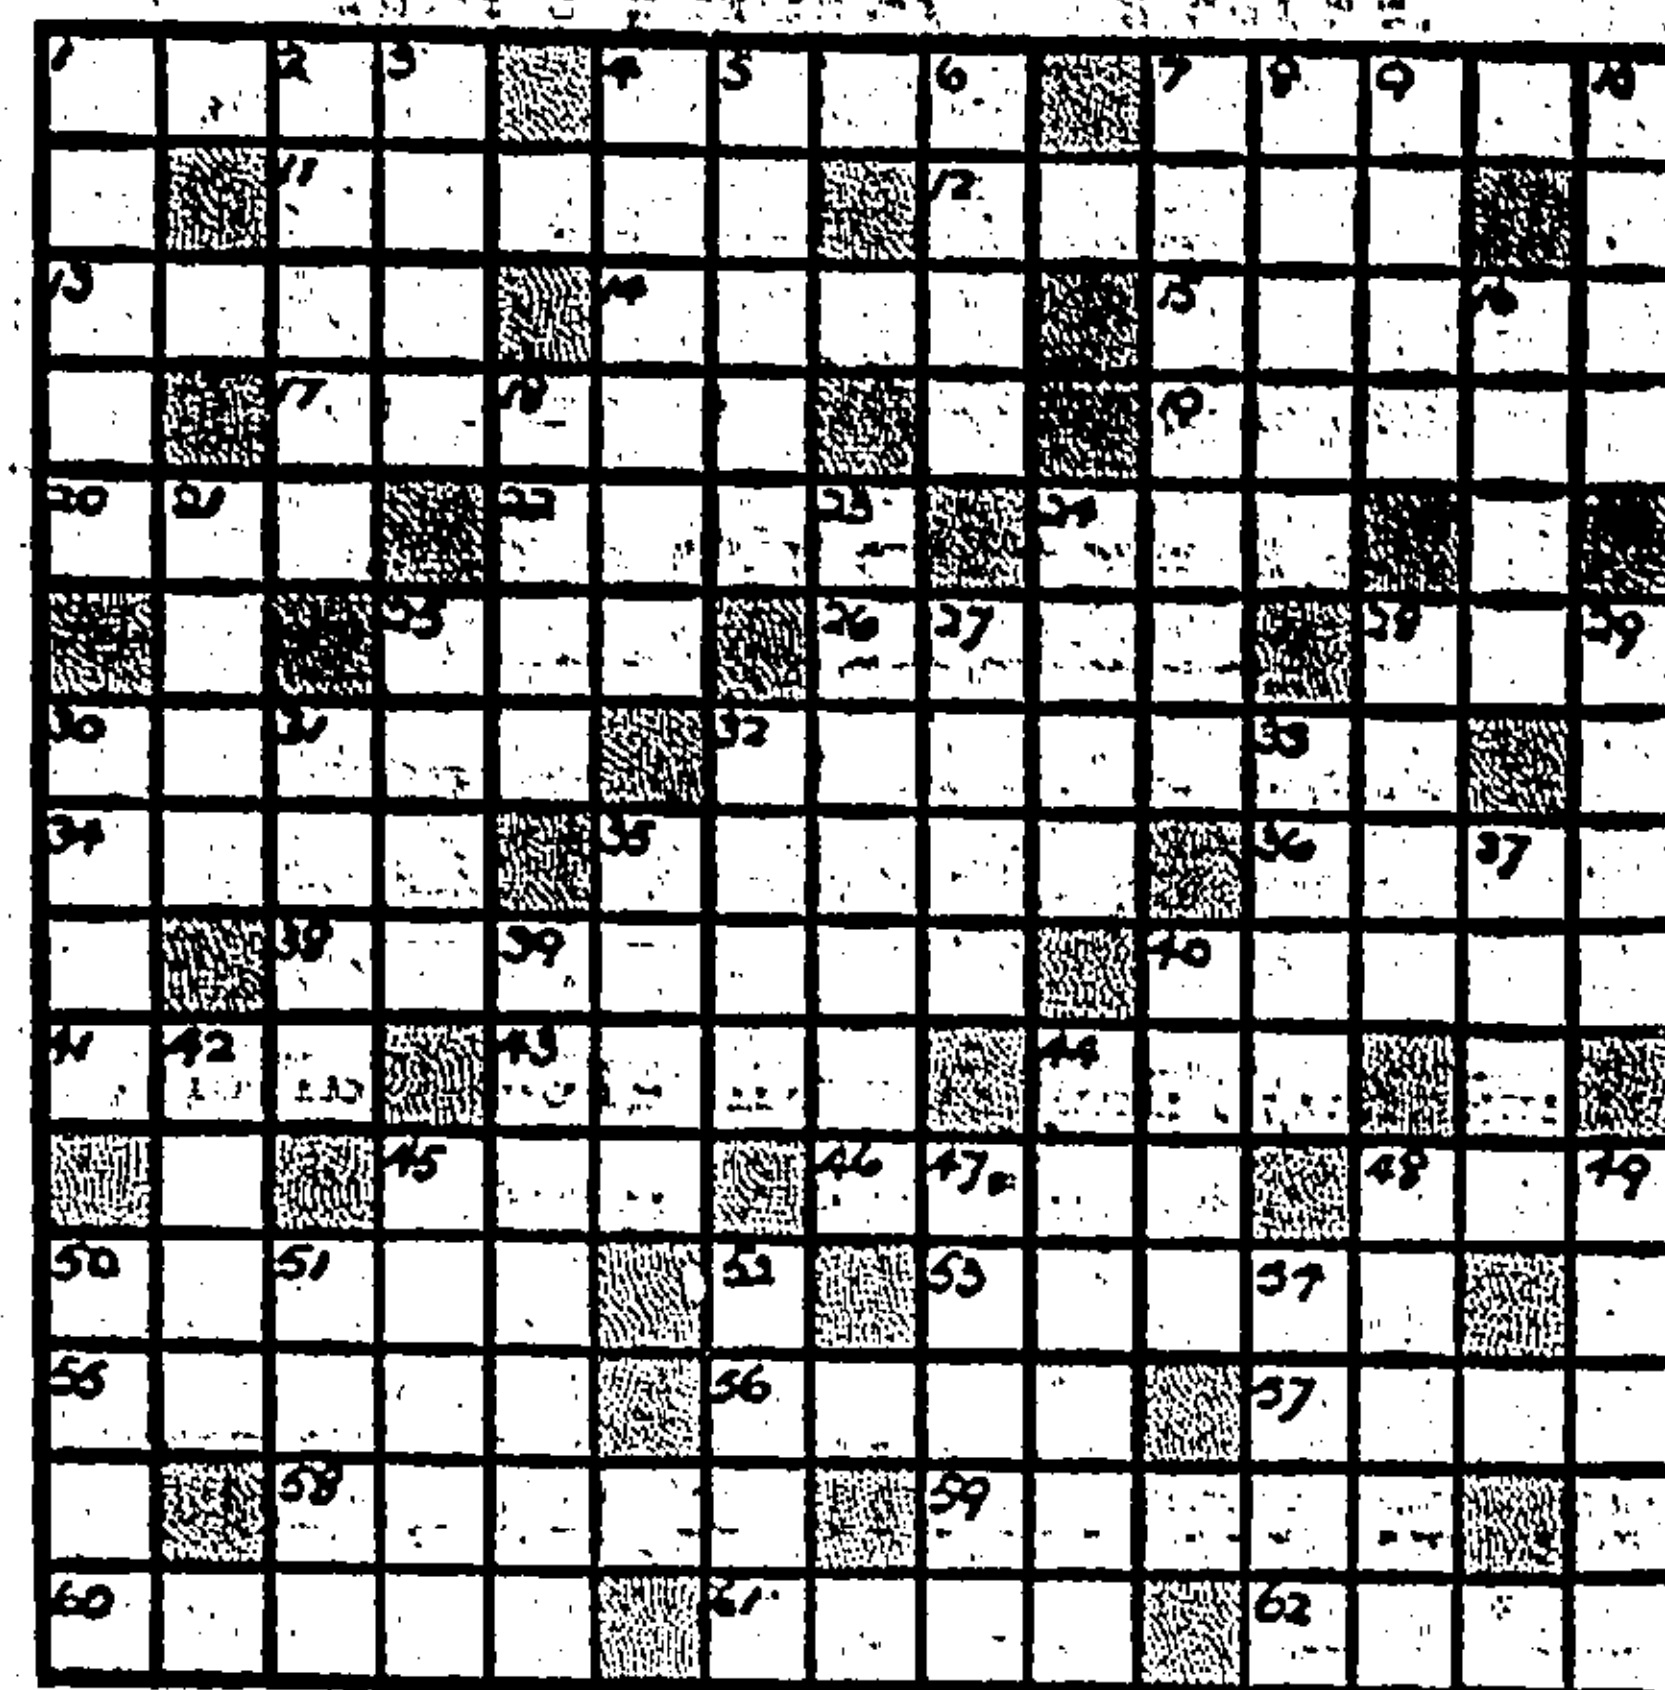

"Well, being afraid helped you to settle it, didn't it?" she said as he kissed her good-night. "Sometimes fear is a very good thing. It makes us face things and fight a battle."

"I'm not afraid of that," replied the boy firmly. "All I was afraid of was not knowing just what to do—now I know."

The difference is not always easy to see, but it is there. Our greatest fears are often the undefined ones. The thing to do is to find out what they are and then set about removing them as soon as possible.

Often the people who boast of never being afraid of anything in their lives are not people of character at all—but quite the opposite. The good kind of fear won't hurt children.

Your Children.

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

We talk so much of fear in connexion with this matter of child training that there is sure to be danger of overlooking the fact that certain fears are right and necessary. Constructive fears, we might call them, or positive fears rather than negative ones—the kind that builds up character instead of tearing it down, that builds a defence rather than a menace.

THE CURRENCY
INQUIRY.

Business men and householders alike will have learned with much interest that the Currency Committee has now amassed practically all the evidence requested and offered, and is proceeding to the report stage. By means of communiques, the public has been kept quite well informed of the nature of the testimony which has come before the Committee. This has been marked by considerable diversity of viewpoint in regard to some aspects of the problem, but the preponderance of opinion seems to be that, whilst numerous reforms are necessary, Hongkong should continue to pin its currency to silver. Final judgment on the soundness or otherwise of this contention must await the appearance of the Committee's report, which, we trust, will cover the evidence in extenso. As advocates of a gold standard for Hongkong, we must say that, on the summaries of the evidence already published, we are not yet convinced that a change-over from silver to gold would be disastrous to the Colony's best interests. If the more detailed arguments which we may expect the Committee's report to contain are more impressive, we need hardly say that we shall be quite prepared to revise our views. At the moment, however, we see no reason for abandoning the stand which we have all along taken on this matter.

Most of the witnesses who have given evidence have submitted that Hongkong can do nothing until China changes the basis of her currency, but we do not think we are mis-stating the facts when we say there has been singularly little supporting argument to back up this contention. Mere repetition of an assertion does not of itself carry conviction. The arguments of those who oppose a gold standard remind us of our former Governor's attitude in regard to the mu-tai problem. Sir Cecil Clementi, in his despatches Home, contended that, geographically speaking, Hongkong formed part of Kwangtung Province, and, that being the case, Hongkong could not abolish the mu-tai system until the authorities of Kwangtung did likewise. The Secretary of State, however, was not prepared to admit this Colony's helplessness in the matter, and he gave definite orders that, without waiting for China, steps were to be taken to deal with the evil. In regard to the currency question, we have contended before, as we do again now, that a policy of waiting for China is based on fear and timidity.

All manner of remedies have been suggested to the Committee with a view to eradicating some of the worst features of the present currency situation, contingent, in the main, upon the retention of the silver basis. Starting out with the assumption that we cannot undertake radical reform until China does, these suggestions strike us as being an effort to make the best of a bad job. No one argues that, even when the proposed remedies are adopted, the position will be ideal: the most that could be said would be that the best possible had been done with the currency still based on silver. We suggest, however, that a change to gold would remove all the unsatisfactory features which now cause so much uncertainty. Admittedly, exchange speculators, and business firms which like an element of gambling in their deals, would find their opportunities restricted, but we cannot see how genuine trade and commerce would suffer. We believe, with Professor Robertson, who speaks with the authority of an economist, and who backs up his submission with argument, that the trade of Hongkong rests on other foundations than a mere coincidence of its currency with that of China. We therefore trust that when the time for definite action arrives, the qualities of courage and confidence will not be lacking in those on whom the final decision rests.

Band Concerts.

The first band concert arranged by the Kowloon Residents' Association at the request of the Hongkong Government is to be given to-night on the ground of the Kowloon Football Club. The experiment will be watched with interest for the initial concert will indicate whether the Government's subsidy for the purpose is appreciated by members of the public. There is little fear, however, that the band concerts in Kowloon will prove a failure. The contrary is much more likely because there have been few similar events on the Peninsula in recent years which have not attracted large gatherings. Various clubs have arranged concerts from time to time and on the whole these have been accorded excellent support. There is, therefore, little fear that the concerts which the K.R.A. has undertaken to arrange will prove anything like failures. The circumstances are all in favour of a highly successful season for Peninsula residents to enjoy a distinct advantage over those of Hongkong. In Kowloon the population is more concentrated and there are few people who are not within easy access of the places where there are suitable facilities for band concerts. The Island presents a much more difficult problem and there seems little doubt that the poor support accorded to similar evening functions in Hongkong is directly attributable to the fact that the members of the public interested in such entertainments are spread over a very wide area. A little travelling, however, should prove no barrier to the true music lover, but it seemingly does in Hongkong and in the light of past experiences Kowloon deserves the special facilities which it is now to have. The fullest publicity has been given to the first concert arranged for to-night and the K.R.A., in addition to its very effective organisation of the event, wisely published details of the programme yesterday with explanatory notes. All that remains now is for the public to support the event and to show the Government and the Kowloon Residents' Association that their efforts on behalf of the community are appreciated.

THE INABILITY TO ENDURE SOLITUDE AND SILENCE IS THE PRESSING CURSE OF MODERN LIFE.—Arthur Pen-dens.

"Justice."—Sorry we cannot see our way to publishing your letter.

The P. and O. s.s. Mantua, from Shanghai, is due here at 6 a.m. on Friday.

Among the passengers arriving by the Chichibu Maru yesterday, was Mr. C. C. Stark.

Dr. Wellington, the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services has kindly consented to become President of the St. John Ambulance Association, Hongkong Centre.

The Hon. Treasurer of St. John Ambulance Brigade begs to acknowledge with thanks the Receipt of $25.00 from Wong Ping-sun towards the funds of the Brigade.

Mr. H. T. White, of the local office of the Dollar Steamship Line, with Mrs. White and family, is leaving for the United States on leave by the President Taft on May 27.

An allegation is contained in a report made by Mr. T.A.C. Tse, the managing director of the Sze Yap S.S. Company, that a Chinese accountant employed on one of the Company's steamers is missing, with a sum of $2,000 belonging to the firm.

Swallowing a species of poisonous herb, known amongst the Chinese and described by them, literally, as "broad-leaved tea," a would-be suicide, the wife of a Chinese trader, name Kwai Sau, living at No. 55, Causeway Bay Road, was removed to hospital yesterday in a critical state.

The weekly health return of the Medical Officer contained five cases of small-pox, five of typhoid and one of diphtheria. There were three deaths from small-pox and two from typhoid. Deaths from notifiable diseases were: Tuberculosis 69, malaria 7, influenza 1. There was a clean bill of health for Monday.

Returning from banishment for the fourth time within three years a Chinese who appeared before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning was sentenced to nine months' hard labour. The defendant had two previous convictions for larceny and three for returning from banishment, having returned in September, 1927, April, 1928; and January, 1929. He received a birching on two occasions.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the corpse of a male Chinese was found floating in the fairway, off the Public Pier at Kowloon. It was taken aboard a Water Police launch and removed to the Mortuary. The identity of the dead man remains unknown, as the corpse was found in a decomposed state when found. His age appears to be about 30. There were two gold-filled teeth in the upper jaw which, it is hoped, may facilitate identification later.

HUNGRY PAINTER
SENTENCED.STOLE ARTICLES FROM MURRAY BARRACKS.

A Chinese painter's attempt to satisfy his hunger by breaking into Murray Barracks, and stealing a cooking utensil, eggs, and a spirit stove, was described to Mr. Grant-ham at the Central Magistracy this morning, when a man appeared before him to answer a charge relative to the theft of those articles.

Accused pleaded guilty. Inspector Dick said that early yesterday morning, the accused climbed on to a bridge, from which he ran along a ledge, and gained access to the kitchen in the A and B blocks of the married quarters at Murray Barracks, his entrance being by way of the verandah. There he stole the articles mentioned, but, as he was coming away, he allowed the door to bang. This aroused Sergt. Walker, who quickly spotted the intruder, and the sergeant's wife, who also woke up, blew a police whistle, police officers arriving on the scene within four minutes.

The defendant said he was an odd-job painter, and as business had been so bad lately, he was pressed by the pangs of hunger to steal. A record of six previous convictions was produced against the man, together with information that, only the day prior to the theft, had he taken his discharge from police supervision.

His Worship imposed a sentence of six months' imprisonment.

HONGKONG'S NEW CINEMA."THE LOVE PARADE" AS OPENING PICTURE.

The Central Theatre, which opens very soon, will have for its first picture, reproduced on Western Electric sound equipment, Paramount's all-talking, singing, and musical romance, "The Love Parade", featuring Maurice Chevalier and beautiful Jeanette MacDonald.

"Love Parade" is an Ernst Lubitsch production, a Paramount super-special picture. In Shanghai, it was shown for 22 days and broke all box office records; in New York, tickets were sold for $11 for the opening night.

"The Love Parade" is a tuneful extravaganza of the intimacies and intrigues about the throne of a very mythical kingdom, or rather quendom, with Jeanette MacDonald playing the Queen and Maurice Chevalier starred as her military attaché, who is recalled from a foreign capital for having been involved in numerous scandalous affairs with the lovely ladies of the diplomatic circle.

"Love Parade" has 10 original songs, wonderful settings and lavish costuming.

OPIUM FOUND ON
SAMPAN.MAN GETS STIFF SENTENCE
AT MAGISTRACY.

Revenue Officers made a big seizure in the harbour yesterday, when they discovered a man and woman in a sampan in possession of 800 taels of the prepared drug. The officers effected the seizure at about 1 p.m. just as the sampan was making towards the Yaumati typhoon shelter. When the man and his wife were questioned as to how they came into possession of the drug, they could only reply that they found it in the harbour, after it had been dropped from the s.s. Sui On, which had arrived from Macao about an hour previously.

Both were arrested, and this morning appeared before Mr. Lindsell at the Central Magistracy where they pleaded guilty to charges of unlawful possession. The woman was discharged, but the man convicted and fined $50,000, or 12 months' hard labour.

FORGED BANKNOTE
CHARGE.TWO YOUNG CHINESE IN DOCK AT KOWLOON.

Serious charges of uttering a forged $100 note of the Chartered Bank, of the old issue, and of obtaining money to the total of $90.40 on the forged note were brought against two young Chinese who appeared before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning.

It was intimated that Mr. F. C. E. Rendall had been instructed for the second defendant and applied for a remand and bail.

Detective Sergeant Fitches replied that at the present stage of the proceedings the police opposed bail.

The defendants were remanded formally for one week for hearing on the afternoon of May 30.

The Very Idea!

There have been many occasions when Dr. Bridges, the Poet Laureate, whose death is announced, has been criticised for the comparatively small number of poems he has written, but his reply to critics has almost invariably been, "I will not force my muse."

On one occasion, however, it was more emphatic. It is related that when a House of Commons discussion of the non-appearance of a Peace Ode was brought to his notice his brief comment was:—"I don't care a damn."

"He's an awfully clever man." "Not a bit of it. He only makes people think he is."

"Well, that's enough, isn't it?"

Mr. Squire, who has been setting a competition in the Week-End Review on "nouns of assembly," adds quite a number to an attractive list:

A condescension of chauffeurs.
A tapping (or giggle) of typists.
A drangle of charwomen.
A wizen of jockeys.
A blather of politicians.
An absence of plumbers.
A screw of income-tax collectors.
A haggle of Jews.
A grumble of dramatic critics.
A flourish (or strut) of actors.
A swagger of men about town.
A mush of novelists.

The presiding magistrate at the court, being very jealous of the dignity of it, sharply called to order the public, who were somewhat noisily chatting in the gallery.

"Silence, silence," he cried. "I will have decorum in this court. I will have decorum."

The attendant went to the door of the court and in a loud voice called, "Dick Oram, Dick Oram."

After waiting a moment he returned, and to the astonishment of the magistrate said, "There is no reply, your Worship."

A preacher was asked if he would like any particular hymn to accompany his sermon.

"No, no," he said. "As a matter of fact I hardly ever know what I am going to say until I reach the pulpit."

"Oh well, in that case," said the Vicar, "we had better have the hymn 'For those at sea.'"

"When are you going to get married, Mary?"

"I ain't goin' to get married, mum. I won't marry Jack when 'e ain't sober, and 'e won't marry me when 'e is."

Belgaum, May 20.

Gokhale, the captain of the Maharashtra Satyagrahis, who raided Shiroda salt works, has returned. In a statement he says that now the Government has abandoned arresting and resorted to the use of lathis, an atmosphere has been created conducive to public violence and very harmful to the cause; consequently the Satyagrahis have decided to suspend their offensive until the atmosphere calms down.—Reuters.

WHO WAS—ZADIG?

Amusing, but not very heartening, is the story of Zadig, the young Babylonian who is the hero of Voltaire's philosophical novel.

"Destiny" is its sub-title, and the author's intention was to demonstrate his theory that it does not lie within man's power to control the events of his life.

If the possession of every virtue could ensure happiness, Zadig would have been supremely happy. He was honest, broad-minded, devout, thoughtful, observant, intelligent, and his aim in life was absolutely altruistic.

He wished to reform the world.

To his astonishment and dismay, the world resented his well-meaning efforts, and persistently denied him the pleasure of doing good to it. In whichever direction he turned, Zadig found himself baffled by the malice and stupidity of his fellows, and had at last to admit his impotence to shape his own destiny.

The "lost elephant" story occurs in this book. A man asked Zadig whether he had seen the strayed animal, and was mystified to receive the reply: "No, but if it is blind in one eye, and has lost a great many teeth it is wandering towards the west." These references he made from having seen jagged bites in the grass by the side of elephant tracks pointing westwards.

LAUNCH DISPUTE EVIDENCE.

DEFENDANT CLOSELY QUESTIONED.

WOULD ARREST CHARTERER IF COULD BE FOUND.

STORY OF A DEBT.

Mak Chun-loong, defendant in the launch mortgage case, was cross-examined by Mr. H. G. Sheldon, counsel for plaintiff, this morning, with regard to a charter party under which, he said, he hired the disputed launch which he claims as his own, to Ng Siu-chuen and Chan Wan-sang, as a result of which charter the sum of $10,050 was owing to him. Referring to Chan Wan-sang, defendant said "Chan Wan-sang has run away and dare not turn up. If he had been in Hongkong I would have applied for a warrant for his arrest."

The case is being heard before the Chief Justice (Sir Joseph Kemp).

Defendant stated that the charter party was written by Tang Kwei-kwai, a ship broker, whom he met in Hongkong. He did not know where Tang now was and had looked for him at a house in Canton road without success. He would have produced Tang if he had found him.

Tang Missing.

Defendant explained that he did not know whether or not Tang had an office, but he did not think so. He had made enquiries as to Tang's whereabouts from other brokers, but they had stated that Tang was not to be found in Hongkong and they could not say where he had gone to.

Defendant continued that Tang took part in the transaction for hiring the launch for which he was paid between $20 and $30. He agreed that he had been in shipping business for several years.

Mr. Sheldon:—The usual charge is five per cent. on the charter party, isn't it?—The shipping in which I had had experience was only on a very small scale and concerned steam launches and not ocean-going steamers. I paid him, as a matter of form, something for his trouble. I did not receive a lump sum, as other charter parties do, but I received small sums from time to time. If I am allowed time I think I shall be able to find this man Tang.

Not a Lawyer.

You have had a year in which to find him?—I was not of a legal mind and so I did not know how to prepare my case and what evidence to get.

You have had a certain amount to do with the law during the last year or so?—I am a layman and if the question of getting hold of this man had come up at an earlier stage I might have found him.

The transaction of this charter party was for 16 months at $500 a month, which comes to $8,000?—Yes.

A broken who takes part in a charter party of that kind usually gets five per cent. commission on the gross amount of the charter?

His Lordship pointed out that that might be so if the broker had actually found the parties, but witness had not said that the broker did so. Counsel had only put it to witness that Tang was connected with the charter party, but details had not been put.

Mr. Sheldon replied that those were his instructions, but added he would not pursue the matter.

Money Owed.

Referring to Ng Siu-chuen, one of the charterers, defendant said he was introduced to Ng by Mak Kat-cheung at No. 174, Reclamation Street. He was told by Mak that he had come from Canton.

Mr. Sheldon:—He owes you money, doesn't he?—Yes.

How much?—According to the figures that I wrote out the amount owing from this charter party is $1,050 in respect of hiring my launch.

Replying to other questions, defendant said Mak told him that Ng died in Canton. He did not approach Ng's family for payment of the money as he could not find them, and in any case, there was still the other party to the charter, Chan Wan-sang, who was still alive.

Where is he now?—I don't know where he is. He owes me money. Do you think he would dare to face me?

Date Not Turn Up.

Defendant continued that Ng Siu-chuen and Chan Wan-sang

NEW POSITION FOR ADMIRAL CHAN.

TO ADMINISTER AFFAIRS OF HAINAN ISLAND.

MODERN OFFICIAL.

Canton, May 20. In order to bring the island of Hainan, in Southern Kwangtung, under better control, the Kwangtung Provincial authorities have appointed Admiral Chan Chak, Commander-in-Chief of the 4th Naval Squadron, as special Officer Administering Hainan.

Admiral Chan Chak is amongst the most loyal and efficient of the Government servants in South

China and his hard work has already been responsible for the reorganisation and the putting on a firm and efficient basis of the Provincial Fleet, the 4th Naval Squadron.

In Canton, Admiral Chan Chak is extremely popular, and numerous public works testify to his very able administrative abilities. He is extremely modern in his ideas and has certainly given of his best to help the progress of Kwangtung.

Quite recently Admiral Chan Chak led an expedition to Hainan for the extermination of large party of bandits in the island, which work he accomplished very rapidly.

The Admiral expects to leave for Hainan next week on his flagship Chung Shan. Our Own Correspondent.

NEW YORK POLICE COMMISSIONER.

MR. WHALEN RETURNING TO OLD POSITION.

New York, May 20. The Police Commissioner, Mr. Grover Whalen, is resigning and returning to his old post as general manager of a leading New York department store at a salary of twenty thousand sterling.

Mr. Edward Mulrooney, Assistant Chief Inspector of the Detective Division, has been appointed Police Commissioner in his place. Reuter's American Service.

both came to his house at Reclamation Street together and he understood they both came from Canton. He added:—"Chan Man-sang has run away and dare not turn up. If he had been in Hongkong I would have applied for a warrant for his arrest."

Defendant agreed that Chan Wan-sang owed him $1,050. He had enquired after him once at Canton.

Mr. Sheldon:—Is that sum of so little moment to you that it is not worth your while seeking out your debtor?—I don't know where to find him.

Counsel pointed out that if Chan could be found he would be a very useful witness in defendant's favour, and defendant agreed. He stated, however, that with regard to the money owing there was a guarantor. The guarantor was the Fook Chong Loong firm of Canton.

Guarantor's Liability.

Defendant explained that the guarantor was responsible for anything that happened to the launch, for money due and money to pay for damages. That firm were the guarantors of Ng Siu-chuen and Chan Man-sang.

Mr. Sheldon:—Have you made any attempts to obtain this $1,050, owing to you by the charterers, from the guarantors?—This firm unfortunately closed down just a month or so before the expiry of this charter.

What a pity! You told me, in effect, you were not worrying about the charterers, as you had a guarantor, but if the guarantor closed down before the expiry of the charter it was not much good to you, was it?—What I mean was that I would have looked to them for any money before they closed down. The case is proceeding.

FORMER HONGKONG ARCHITECT.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE WITH WIFE & DAUGHTER.

SHANGHAI CRASH.

Shanghai, May 18. Mr. J. R. Maughan, of Messrs. Lester, Johnson & Morris, Mrs. Maughan and their daughter narrowly escaped with their lives shortly after nine o'clock yesterday morning when their motor car, a Studebaker Six, was involved in a serious accident which occurred in Bubbling Well Road, between Mohawk and Park Roads.

The body of the car was totally smashed and the chassis was twisted and the fact that the family escaped with as little injury as they did was nothing short of miraculous.

Mr. Maughan and his family were being driven by the chauffeur towards the Central District and a hire car was noticed coming from the opposite direction. In an attempt to avoid striking a coolie, the chauffeur of the hire car made a sudden swerve to the right across the road, hitting Mr. Maughan's car on the right side.

The hire car was apparently being driven at a high speed for the force of the impact completely turned Mr. Maughan's car over, breaking the glass and smashing the body. It was only with the greatest difficulty that Mr. Maughan and his family were able to extricate themselves.

Mrs. Maughan escaped with a bad shaking. Miss Maughan received a cut on her nose, and Mr. Maughan, who was sitting on the left hand side, suffered from a small cut on the left hand, bruises about the shoulders and a grazed leg. The coolie whom the chauffeur of the hire car tried to avoid had his wrist broken. Neither of the chauffeurs was injured.

The hire car, in which were several Chinese passengers had its front wheel buckled. The chauffeur was taken to Sinza Station where he is at present being detained.

[Mr. Maughan will be remembered by many people in Hongkong as a former resident of the Colony.]

THE BRITISH MOTOR INDUSTRY.

ATTEMPTS TO DEVELOP THE EXPORT TRADE.

London, May 20. Several questions on employment matters were addressed to the Lord Privy Seal, the Rt. Hon. Mr. J. H. Thomas, in the House of Commons. He said that as a result of his discussions with representatives of the Association of Motor Manufacturers and Traders he was confident that a real co-operative effort was being made by industry to develop the export trade.

He added that it had been decided that the industry should take steps to organise a representative exhibit of British motor products at the British Empire Trade Exhibition at Buenos Aires next year.

He stated that the Government of the Union of South Africa had placed in England an order for 45,000 tons of steel rails and various permanent way accessories. British Wireless.

TRANBY CROFT SCANDAL.

RECALLED BY DEATH OF BARONET.

CHEATING DENIED.

London, May 20.

The death of Sir William Gordon Gordon-Cumming, at Altyre, Scotland, this morning, recalls the famous Tranby Croft scandal of 1891, in which he was accused of cheating at baccarat at a house party, and brought a slander action, notable for the appearance in the witness box of King Edward the Seventh (who was then Prince of Wales) who had been a guest at the house party. His action was unsuccessful.

His wife, a wealthy American, who died eight years ago, refused to believe in his guilt and married him a day after the verdict was given, although he offered to release her from her engagement.

Sir William, who after the scandal signed a pledge not to touch cards again, always protested his innocence. Reuter.

[Sir Wm. Gordon-Cumming, the fourth Baronet, was born in 1848. He was educated at Eton, and entered the army, serving with distinction in South Africa in 1879, and Egypt in 1882-84. He was at one time Lieut. Colonel in the Scots Fusilier Guards. His estate comprises 38,500 acres. The heir is Captain Alexander Penrose Gordon-Cumming, Cameron Highlanders.]

case he would probably be able to spare an afternoon.

Mr. Prior replied that he had spoken to Counsel, but he was unable to appear before the hotel case was concluded. That case would take at least three weeks, and would be starting within a week.

Hearing Fixed.

In reply to his Worship, Mr. Prior said the case he referred to was some hotel case in Original Jurisdiction.

His Worship said he did not think he would be justified in adjourning the hearing indefinitely. He did not think the summonses were sufficiently serious or important to justify the adjournment. He proposed to fix the hearing for the afternoon of Tuesday next.

CANTON POLICE.

TO BE TRAINED IN FIRE FIGHTING WORK.

Canton, May 20. Close co-operation between General Auyung-kwei, Commissioner of Public Safety, and Captain Cheung Mok, Captain of the Canton Municipal Fire Brigade, is responsible for a new scheme by which all the members of the Cantonese Police Force are to receive a course in fire drill and fire-fighting, in order whenever necessary to augment the Fire Brigade in cases of emergency.

The Canton Fire Brigade and the Police Department are two of the most efficient departments in the city, and, thanks to the very hard work put in by their Chiefs, they have made marked progress during the past couple of years. Our Own Correspondent.

THE POSITION IN KWANGSI.

CANTONESE TROOPS BEING WITHDRAWN.

PROMISES RECALLED.

Canton, May 20.

The Kwangsi campaign seems to be drawing to an end at last, but not quite in the way that had been predicted all along by the Cantonese leaders, who for months have been talking about the complete annihilation of the Kwangsi rebels, the capture of Kweilin and Nanning, and the bringing to an end once and for all of the Kwangsi rebels and of the Ironsides under General Chan Fat-kwei.

Up till quite recently, the Cantonese leaders have been making considerable progress, but the smashing victory which they were predicting has not yet come to pass, and now the Commanders-in-Chief and a large part of the armies are being withdrawn from Kwangsi, and only a small proportion of the troops being left there to complete the campaign.

General Chan Chai-tong, Commander-in-Chief of the 8th Route Army, and General Chu Shao-leung, Commander-in-Chief of the 6th Route Army, returned to Canton late on Sunday evening, having travelled from Wuchow to Samshui by gunboat, thence to Canton by rail. Large numbers of troops are now on their way back from the West River and it is expected that some of these, at least those belonging to the 6th Route Army, will be sent North to aid the Nationalist troops in checking the Kuominchun-Shansi campaign.

Two divisions under General Tsoi Ting-kai and General Chiang Kwong-wei, have remained in Kwangsi to complete the campaign, but it is curious that, after the many promises of complete annihilation by the Cantonese leaders, troops should be withdrawn before the campaign should have been definitely closed.

Unless the Cantonese leaders are definitely able to accomplish the complete extermination of the Kwangsi rebels and the Ironsides, Kwangtung will in the near future be once again faced with the possibility of invasion from reorganised troops under General Chang Fat-kwei.

Part of the armies which have returned from the Kwangsi campaign are likely to be sent to the East River District between Wai-chow and Swatow for the purpose of bandit suppression. General Tan Tao-yuan will be put in charge of this work. Banditry in the East River District has become excessively rife of late, owing to all the troops from that part having been sent up to Kwangsi early in January. Our Own Correspondent.

RICH SPOIL OF BURGLARS.

FAMOUS EMPRESS'S DECORATIONS.

Burglars broke into the Austrian Army Museum and carried off the largest spoil of historical objects which any burglar has ever stolen in Austria.

The museum keeper found disorder in several departments, many glass cases having been rifled. It was clear that a "cat burglar" had forced a window from the outside.

Among the objects missing are:—2 bronze keys to the Fortress of Venice.

2 vases filled with golden decorations of the Maria Theresa Order.

A golden arm band set with diamonds.

A gold-plated silver statue of an ox, which was filled with ducats.

Of particular value, both historically and intrinsically, were the Maria Theresa decorations.

Each of these had been presented to some famous General or Field-Marshal for deeds of valour.

This Maria Theresa decoration was awarded so seldom, and was prized so highly, that it could not be inherited by the family of the recipient. It had to be returned on his death to the Emperor or Empress who had presented it.

Powerful A.C. Auditorium Amplifiers

(690 and 691 3-stage)

The 690 and 691 three-stage, a.c. operated, dual push-pull power amplifiers have enjoyed great popularity with experimenters in sound amplification. These amplifiers provide possibility of coverage of thousands of people with really unbelievable tone fidelity. Operate from 1 to 20 auditorium or other electro-dynamic speakers, or up to 300 magnetic speakers.

The introduction of 679 two-stage auditorium amplifiers brings medium power amplification within reach of all. Coverage from 2000 to 5000 people; can handle from 4 to 9 electro-dynamics or from 80 to 60 magnetic speakers.

NO MORE RACE HOLIDAYS.

SINGAPORE RUBBER MARKET TO REMAIN OPEN.

After the present Spring meeting no longer will mid-week race days generally be regarded as holidays in Singapore, the S. F. Press is informed. The business community of the city welcome the change, it is understood.

The first sign of a change in the old established custom came when H.E. the Governor (Sir Cecil Clementi) recently intimated that it was his wish that Government Offices should keep open on mid-week race days.

Even to-day the position will be different from last Wednesday as all the leading stores have signified their intention of keeping open, in common with most business houses. The Manager of one of the largest stores in Singapore told our representative that he very much welcomed the change from a business point of view though no doubt it had been pleasant in the past not to work on mid-week race days. "But this change has been coming about for some time past and it really ought to be so; especially in time of depression such as these when every few hundred dollars worth of business is welcome."

The Banks will follow the old practice until the next race meeting. Mr. J. R. George, Manager of the Chartered Bank, Singapore, explained that the banking community were unable to fall into line as quickly as the others but nevertheless intended to do so as quickly as possible.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Rubber Association were informed this week that the replies received in response to an enquiry as to whether they were in favour of not closing the market on the afternoons of mid-week race days showed that the majority were against closing. The rubber market would therefore remain open in future. Presumably, the only people who do and will not favour this change are the employees!

ARRESTED MAN AND A FILM STAR

ECHO OF AN EIGHT YEAR OLD TRAGEDY.

Los Angeles police have arrested an expert accountant, Russi Rinaldo, in connexion with the death of Mr. William Desmond Taylor, the English film director, in 1922.

Rinaldo is formerly charged with "suspicion of murder." Mr. Taylor was found shot dead in his beautiful Los Angeles apartment an hour after he had received a visit from the late Miss Mabel Normand; the film comedienne.

Miss Normand could throw no light on the crime.

Rinaldo is alleged to have confessed that he accidentally fired the shot which killed the director; but the authorities admittedly are sceptical of his story.

Before the shooting (according to the alleged "confession") there had been a quarrel between Mr. Taylor and a well-known moving picture "star" at the director's home.

Rinaldo has stated that he followed a famous film "star," with whom he was friendly, to Mr. Taylor's home on the night of the murder.

While standing outside the apartment he heard an altercation proceeding between the actress and the director.

Later he entered the apartment and remonstrated with Mr. Taylor, who, according to Rinaldo, drew a gun.

A scuffle followed between the two men for the possession of the weapon, during which the director was killed.

the innings was declared closed at 203 for the loss of three wickets. Macaulay played havoc with the Essex wickets in their second innings, taking four for 18 runs.

Somerset v. Surrey.

Somerset won on the first innings against Surrey at Taunton. Somerset compiled only 195 runs in the first innings, but Surrey made an even worse showing, their total being 177. Shepherd came to Surrey's rescue and made almost half the score. He was the only batsman able to play the Somerset bowling and contributed a most valuable 85.

Somerset went in again to make a much better showing, clearing with their total at 314. At that time nine wickets had fallen, White being the highest scorer with 79.

Surrey's batting also improved and they made 197 for the loss of six wickets in the second innings. Peach contributing 60 not out. White, the Somerset bowler took five wickets in Surrey's first innings for 34 runs.

Cambridge v. Middlesex.

Cambridge beat Middlesex by seven wickets. Haig just missed his century during the Middlesex innings, his wicket being taken when he was 99. The whole team was dismissed for 213. Roughtrout taking seven wickets for only 36 runs. Cambridge gave a much superior batting performance, making 324. Robins was the hero of the Middlesex side when they batted again. He made 140 of the total of 278. Cambridge, left with a comparatively easy task, got the necessary runs when only three of their wickets had fallen, their second innings score being 168 for three.

Leicester v. Sussex.

Leicester won on the first innings against Sussex at Leicester. The feature of the match was the huge score compiled by Berry who made 232 runs out of Leicester's first innings total of 371. None of the other batsmen were able to score from the bowling, but they stayed in long enough to enable Berry to make runs. In their first innings, Sussex had made 214 and when they went in again they compiled 207 for the loss of six wickets, Langridge being 86 not out.

Lancs. v. Northants.

Lancashire beat Northants by two wickets. Northants could only compile 190 when they batted first, Hopwood proved to be the mainstay of the Lancashire side, he being the only batsman to play Cox. Hopwood made 109 of the team's total of 258. Five wickets were taken by Cox for only 24 runs.

Going in again Northants improved only slightly on their previous performance, the side being dismissed for 208. Although left with an easy task, Lancashire only just managed to pull off a narrow victory. By the time the necessary 141 runs had been made they had lost eight of their wickets.

Warwick v. Worcester.

Warwick won on the first innings against Worcester. There was a magnificent batting display by both Bates and Kilner when Warwick went to the wicket to pile up the huge score of 543 for the loss of seven wickets. Bates made 199 and Kilner 150.

Worcester got 290 in the first innings, Mayer taking five wickets for 75, and 325 in the second innings when Gibbons came to the rescue with a faultless 104. In this innings Mayer took another five wickets for 70 runs. Warwick went to the wicket for a few minutes and got the required 14 runs without loss.

SEDITION CHARGES NOT PROVED.

TWO MEN ACQUITTED BY KOWLOON MAGISTRATE.

Owing to insufficient evidence, two Chinese who were charged before Mr. Whyte Smith, at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon, with being in possession of seditious matter were acquitted. In each case, the defendant was only alleged to have had a few documents in his possession.

In the first case the defendant was alleged to have passed a pamphlet to a pedestrian in the street on April 30 and, when the receiver had shown the document to a friend who was talking to a detective, the defendant was arrested. He was seen to drop another pamphlet which he had in his possession at the time.

The accused argued that he had himself been handed some pamphlets, but without even looking at them he had given all but one to other people who were standing about. He intimated that he was in the same position who had been given a document. Defendant denied he was the distributor.

His Worship, after taking the evidence, said that he did not think he would feel comfortable in convicting. He pointed out that everything depended on the evidence of the pedestrian, who alleged that the defendant had given him the document.

The Second Case.

The evidence in the second case was even weaker, a private watchman, who worked in the same factory as the defendant, giving evidence in contradiction to a Shantung constable, who said that he had seen the defendant throwing several pamphlets away.

The Indian, however, said that he saw the defendant pick up a document from the roadway where were strewn several other pieces of paper. Whilst he was reading the pamphlet the Shantung constable appeared on the scene and the defendant, on seeing him, threw the document away. He was then arrested.

The defendant was discharged.

A NEW VESSEL.

BENTAM ARRIVES HERE FOR FIRST TIME.

A vessel new to the port arrived here on Monday morning, this being the Dutch vessel Bentam, which sailed from Sourabaya on May 4, and from Samarinda on May 11. Under the command of Capt. A. J. Zonneveld with a crew of eight Europeans and 54 Asiatic seamen, the Bentam brought in 1,472 tons of coal for Hongkong and 1,600 tons for through ports. She left here for Canton yesterday morning.

SHIP'S ENCOUNTER WITH TYPHOON.

PONG TONG EXPERIENCES ROUGH WEATHER.

The s.s. Pong Tong (Capt. R. E. Freckleton) arrived in port yesterday evening after experiencing very bad weather, caused by the typhoon which recently passed south of Hainan.

The vessel left Saigon on May 15 at 3 p.m. with a full cargo of rice and 117 passengers, and experienced light N.E. breezes, and a slight sea up to Cape Padaran. After rounding Padaran on the 16th at 11.30 a.m. a high N.E. swell was encountered, with light N. and N.W. winds, indicating an oncoming typhoon.

On May 17 it was blowing a strong W.N.W. gale, veering to S.W., with high sea and heavy rain, the vessel shipping heavy water.

In Lat. 16 N. and Long. 110.30 E., the weather conditions became worse, and the captain was compelled to steam south to avoid the typhoon which was crossing the vessel's path. After running before it for five hours, he decided to lay the vessel to the wind, at slow speed. After making several attempts to work to the northward, the ship ran into a high pyramidal and dangerous sea, at 2 p.m. on the 18th, and was compelled to steam to the S.E. again.

At 6 p.m. on the 18th, the wind backed from S.W. to S., the typhoon having passed to the westward, and the ship proceeded on its journey to Hongkong, arriving safely at 7 p.m. yesterday.

The lowest barometric reading was 29.65, the thermometer being at 82.

THE CHICHIBU MARU.

OPEN TO INSPECTION THIS AFTERNOON.

The new N.Y.K. motor vessel Chichibu Maru attracted a great deal of attention during the fifteen-hour yesterday when she steamed majestically into the harbour and berthed alongside Kowloon Wharf. Unlike her two sister-ships, the Asama Maru and the Tatsuta Maru, the Chichibu has only one funnel instead of two. Her dimensions are also slightly larger and the details of her equipment differ somewhat. She will be thrown open for inspection to-day between 2 and 5 p.m., when a large number of visitors are expected on board.

AMERICAN PIONEER LINE ADDS THREE SHIPS.

Mr. Edward Danks, general agent

at Hongkong for L. Everett, Inc.,

Oriental agents for the Roosevelt

Steamship Company, which line are managing operators for the American

Pioneer Line, announces that he has received cable advices from his principals that on the Hongkong New York run of the American Pioneer

Line their services will be augmented

by the additional fast motor vessels,

"Wichita," "City of Ellwood," and

"Jeff Davis." With these three new vessels the American Pioneer Line will be composed of all fast motor ships of the very latest type and design which have been thoroughly reconditioned and changed from steam propulsion to motor vessels at a cost to the U. S. Shipping Board of nearly $2,000,000 gold each.

Mr. Danks further stated that in view of the "Wichita" and her sister ships having been assigned to the Oriental run local shippers from this port will be given a highly competitive service over other steamship lines

from Hongkong to New York and Boston via the Panama Canal.

In addition to the "Wichita" class vessels there will also be retained in the American Pioneer Line for the Hongkong-North Atlantic service the

"Triumph," "Defiance," and "Courageous" whose recent record runs to

New York have been the occasion of general surprise to local shippers.

The "Courageous" sails from New York this month, the "Wichita" in June, followed by the "Defiance" in July, and with the other vessels following on regular schedule subsequently thereafter on the 25th of each month.

GIRL FLYER NEAR JOURNEY'S END.

NOW 1,300 MILES FROM AUSTRALIA.

TRYING EXPERIENCE.

London, May 20.
Miss Amy Johnson is now within 1,300 miles of Port Darwin, having flown to-day in two stages,
under most unfavourable weather conditions, from Tjomal, Java, to Sourabaya.—British Wireless.

Sourabaya, May 20.
Miss Amy Johnson is most disappointed at her inability to start before to-morrow, owing to a defective magnet.—Reuter.
Sourabaya, May 20.
Miss Amy Johnson has arrived here.

Later.
The wings of Miss Amy Johnson's plane received five cuts in yesterday's forced landing. These were repaired with sticking plaster.

Miss Johnson is feeling the strain of her great adventure.
The greatest difficulty and danger was taking off at Tjomal this morning, owing to the wetness of the ground and shortness of the run. Finally, her luggage was taken to an emergency field five miles away; and with the plane thus lightened Miss Johnson succeeded in taking off, and landed in the emergency field, where she took in her luggage and thence flew to Semarang, where she landed for an hour and a half before continuing to Souraabaya.

Miss Johnson was looking very tired. She has received many offers to tour Australia, and intends to refuse. She declares she wants rest.

Relating her experiences above
the Java Sea, she says she experienced a very severe test, with heavy squalls between Singkep and Banka.

She was often forced to fly
only six feet above the waves, and there was imminent danger of crashing into the water, in which case she would have been lost.

Miss Johnson declared—"This was dreadful, dreadful! Really,
I thought this was the end!"

Miss Johnson arrived simultaneously with a Dutch-Indian mail plane. She alighted with her usual spruce appearance, wearing a flower in her buttonhole. A number of women were present, and presented bouquets to Miss Johnson.

She said the flight from Semarang was uneventful. The engine occasionally ran irregularly, which she ascribed to a leakage of the petrol pipe.—Reuter.

Washington, May 20.
A variety of advice was given to the Senate Committees on the London Naval Treaty by high naval officers to-day.

Rear-Admirals J. V. Chase and J. R. Pringle described the cruiser provision as unfair, and strenuously objected to other parts of the agreement.

On the other hand, Rear-Admiral
H. E. Yarnall supported the Treaty proposal to add a fleet of six-inch guns to the American Navy.

The cross-examination of Rear-Admiral Chase by Senator Reed, before the Foreign Relations Committee, was so severe that Senator Johnson, of California, declared that Senator Reed was treating the Admiral unfairly.

Sensor Reed flushed and, glaring across the table, replied:—"I thank the Senator for his lecture. I will try to copy his own temperate frame of mind."

To this Senator Johnson retorted:—"You will be better off if you do."—Reuter's American Service.

MINING ROYALTIES.

GOVERNMENT TO INTRODUCE NEW BILL.

London, May 20.
The president of the Board of Trade, Mr. William Graham, stated in the House of Commons to-day that an effort would be made to introduce before the end of July a Bill dealing with the purchase of mining royalties, but he was afraid it would not progress beyond the introduction.—

A Temporary Truce.

Mr. MacDonald found Mr.
Thomas ready to tender his resignation as a protest against the action that had been taken.
Some of Mr. Thomas's friends aver that the resignation was actually tendered, and that it would not surprise them were it offered again.

Ministers found that Mr. Lans-bury was not the only one of their number who was anxious that immediate steps should be taken to check the rising total of the workless.

In the end a temporary truce was obtained by referring the Memorandum to a committee of Ministers.

Previous Resignation Threat.

The part played by Mr. Lans-bury and his associates in bringing pressure to bear on the Government is now under discussion, and on this question Mr. Thomas's friends hold strong views.

It was known weeks ago that Sir Oswald Mosley consulted friends as to the advisability of his resigning the Chancellorship of the Duchy of Lancaster, which is his Ministerial post, so that he might have more time to press the memorandum which bears his name.

His friends advised against this course, pointing out that he was new to the party and that his political position would be affected.

The fact remains that the extremists in the party have made good use of their opportunity, and there are many indications that the Government will be forced out of the very correct path taken by the older and more experienced Ministers.

Suggestions that Mr. Thomas and Sir Oswald Mosley are to leave the Government, and to accept Colonial positions, although they have been denied, are easily understood. There is a curious persistence about a rumour connecting Mr. Thomas's name with the Governor-Generalship of Australia.

SIR OSWALD MOSLEY.

Story of Change From Tory to Socialist.

Sir Oswald Mosley, the rich
Conservative who became a Socialist, was born in 1896, as the son of Sir Oswald Mosley, Bart.
Educated at Winchester and Sandhurst, he served in France during the war, first with the 16th Lancers later with the Flying Corps, and was severely wounded. In 1920 he married Lady Cynthia, daughter of the Marquis Curzon and an heiress of some of the wealth of Levi Leithers of Chicago.

When he was elected Conservative M.P. for Harrow in 1918, he was the youngest member of the House. Under party discipline he soon grew restive and in 1922 became an Independent. In 1924 he joined the Labour party, contest-ing the Ladywood Division of Birmingham where he reduced Neville Chamberlain's majority to 77. His father, who was a strong Unionist, repudiated the politics of his son. In 1926, after he and his wife had visited the U.S., he was returned for Smethwick after a triangular contest during which he moved into a boarding house in the constituency, left his luxurious car in its garage and used an old hired motor, while his wife was addressed as Mrs. Mosley. His opponents pointed out that he denounced unearned income, but lived on a fortune which he did not amass.

Quarrel with Father.

The quarrel between him and his father came to a head in 1926.
When it was rumoured that his son and daughter were to repudiate their titles, Sir Oswald wrote to the Press suggesting that they would render more valuable aid to the country, if instead of achiev-

"Shamrock the Fifth" will leave for America about the middle of July and will go via the Azores, occupied by the convoy "Erin," which will carry a big supply of oil that will be freely used in bad weather.

Experts anticipate that the yacht will ride the sea well. She will have a crew of twenty-two and will carry one month's rations of food and fresh water.—*British

REPARATIONS LOAN PLANS.

PROCEEDS TO REDUCE BRITISH NATIONAL DEBT.

London, May 20.
Asked in the House of Commons if, in view of the desirability of encouraging investments in British industries by British investors, he would reconsider a reparations loan under the Young Plan, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr.
Phillip Snowden, said the amount of Reparations Loan to be issued in London would be limited to the British Empire share of the gross proceeds of the loan. The receipts of this country would be used to reduce the National Debt.
In those circumstances, no question arose of interference with investments in industry.—*British ing cheap publicity about the relinquishing of titles they would relinquish some of their wealth and so help to make easier the plight of some of their more unfortunate followers.

His son replied that when he joined the Labour party, he stated his intention to renounce his title when his father died. He found that he could not do so legally, but added: "It will be quite easy not to be addressed by it." Giving all his money to charities, he said, would not help the poor. The only way to do that was "to use ourselves and every resource given us in the struggle to abolish a system which keeps the poor dependent on charities."

It would admirably suit the purpose of capitalism, if we made ourselves as powerless as those we seek to aid, by giving up all our resources and living in the worst slums we could find. If this example were followed by the entire Labour party, disease would speedily rid the ruling class of the only danger they have to fear.
They would then be free to wreak their will on the poor. I am pilloried in the Press for proposing a change that will make me worse off and other people better off. It is idle to argue that men employing their resources to bring about this change are behaving in the same way as men employing their resources to prevent it."

Sir Oswald, returning to the charge, said: "My son was brought up on the fat of the land and never did a day's work in his life. For him to speak as he does now is nothing but hypocrisy."
He died in September 1928, and his son succeeded to the unwanted title.
